SAILING TO ALTAR WHILE DIVORCE IS GIVEN TO HUSBAND

Joseph Landau Wins Decree and Children's Custody From Wife Who Is on Her Way to Marry Morton Rosenberg in Buenos Ayres.

ELOPED WITH HIM WHEN HE WAS A BOOKKEEPER

Following Her Return, Efforts at Reconciliation Failed and Mrs. Landau Left Again When Divorce Was Asked—Rosenberg Awaits Her in South America.

Mrs. Lillian Messing Landau, daughter of Rabbi Henry J. Messing of United Hebrew congregation, formerly prominent in literary and social circles, now sailing to the altar, was divorced Monday, Judge Bishop, sitting in Circuit Court for Judge Ryan, granting a decree to her husband, Joseph Landau, and giving him custody of their two children, Leo, aged 9, and Harold, aged 6.

In Buenos Ayres, Argentine Republic, whither Mrs. Landau is going, she expects to marry Morton Rosenberg, a former bookkeeper in Nagel's restaurant, her companion in the elopement which caused her husband's divorce suit. The voyage is expected to require 40 days from the time she left New York, Oct. 12, and Mrs. Landau expected, on her departure, to find a message awaiting her in the South American port telling her of the divorce by which she is free to marry again.

The hearing of the case before Judge Bishop occupied very little time. Mr. Landau, his brother-in-law and two character witnesses being the only persons to testify.

Mr. Landau said that he was married to Miss Messing Sept. 11, 1896, in St. Louis, and that they separated Sept. 3, 1904.

The last he saw of his wife at the time of the separation, he said, was when he said goodby to her, leaving the home in the morning for his business downtown. When he returned at night, he said, he found her gone with all her effects.

He learned, he said, that 5 minutes after he left the house in the morning, she had sent the two boys to the grocery store and had then departed herself.

He understood, he said, that she was on her way to Buenos Ayres.

The brother-in-law testified that he understood that Mrs. Landau had gone to Buenos Ayres, but said he did not know just where she is now.

Following the testimony of character witnesses for Mr. Landau, Judge Bishop issued the decree, granting him the divorce and the custody of the children.

Reconciliation Effort Futile.
"My sister, Mrs. Landau, sailed from New York Oct. 12 for Buenos Ayres," said a sister of Mrs. Landau to a Post-Dispatch reporter Monday at the home of her father, Rabbi Messing, 4233 Delmar boulevard.

"She will be married when she reaches there. She knew that she would be before she departed because it will take 40 days for the steamer to reach there and the divorce proceedings will be over by that time."

"Joseph Landau is a good man. We tried to effect a reconciliation, but she would not have it."

"It is hard for him, and it is hard for my father. Her children are with their father, but they visit here with their father's other grandchildren."

Father Has Children.
Efforts made by mutual friends of husband and wife, who are prominent in West End society, to bring about a reconciliation proved fruitless, and the divorce suit was filed Sept. 4. Mrs. Landau made no move to contest the suit, and began preparations for her departure to South America, where she had gone with Rosenberg a year before.

Her two children, 6 and 9 years old, remain in the care of their father, who asks their custody in his suit. He accuses his wife of desertion.

The departure of Mrs. Landau in September, 1904, followed nearly 10 years of married life, which her friends and those of her husband had supposed to be one of ideal happiness.

Mr. Landau is manager of the Globe Shoe and Clothing Co. His home at 623 Page boulevard was sumptuously furnished, and Mrs. Landau was believed to be devoted to her husband and their children.

Met at Lunch.
Mr. Landau ate lunch daily at Nagel's restaurant. Mrs. Landau, when

HAWES PRAISES FRANCIS

Fair President's Boom Advanced by Meeting With Cleveland.

Francis or Folk, which shall be urged as Missouri's favorite son for the Democratic Presidential nomination three years hence?

The suggestion of Mr. Francis' nomination has received a new impetus from his meeting with Grover Cleveland and other friends at the unveiling of the J. Sterling Morton monument at Nebraska City, Neb. They are said to have urged on him that he become an active candidate for the honor.

Dispatches from Kansas City say that Gov. Francis declined to discuss the prospect of his entering the Presidential race, but that he gave the impression that if his name were put forward, he would not offer objection.

Gov. Francis has indicated in recent speeches and interviews that he would not repulse the Presidential nomination.

Interviews gathered by Post-Dispatch reporters Monday suggest the trend of local opinion.

Harbor Commissioner Joseph P. Whyte, probably the most influential man in the Wells administration, said that Gov. Francis should be persuaded by the people of Missouri to run for the Presidency.

"Mr. Francis is an able executive, a brilliant diplomat, a fine speaker, at once a politician and a statesman, an authority on finance and man who would be a credit to our great Republic," said Mr. Whyte.

Not Thinking of Folk.
"What do you think about Mr. Folk?" Mr. Whyte was asked.

"I am not thinking about Mr. Folk at all," was the answer.

State Senator Thomas E. Kinney, Fourth Ward leader, who is prominent in the Democratic city organization, differed with Mr. Whyte as to the relative popularity of Francis and Folk.

Gov. Francis may stand all right with the people of the country, but Folk has got the little ones—the masses—reminded Senator Kinney.

"I believe Democrats should get together and start the Governor's boom in earnest. Certainly, 'Our Dave' has earned this honor."

POLICE SEEK DOCTOR IN SUIT CASE TRAGEDY

Detectives Trying to Locate Her After Leaving "Shepherd King" Company.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—Morris Nathan, who was arrested last night on the charge of murder of Susan Geary, a chorus girl, known as Ethel Durrell, the victim of the Winthrop (Mass.) suit case mystery, spent a restless night in a cell at Central Police Station.

It was after 4 o'clock this morning before Nathan went to sleep, and for several hours he tossed about the cot in apparently much distress. He was awakened about 8 o'clock by the entrance of Director Moore of the public safety department.

"It's an unfortunate affair," said Director Moore.

"I am in a very serious position," answered Nathan.

"I am in a very serious position," answered Nathan.

Steps have already been taken, it is said, that will lead to the location and arrest of the physician supposed to be implicated.

Supt. of Detectives McQuade says that Nathan will be held until the arrival of a doctor from Boston, who is expected here tonight.

The prisoner, he added, will return to Massachusetts without requisition papers.

Nathan, who is secretary to the business manager of "The Shepherd King" Company, was engaged to be married to Miss Geary, who was a member of the company until Sept. 9.

POLICE TRACING MISS GEARY'S MOVEMENTS.

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—Provided with photographs of the dead woman, detectives are scouring this city in efforts to trace the movements of Miss Geary from the time she was last seen by her mother at her home in Cambridge, on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 10. At that time she left, saying she was going to join the "Shepherd King" Company, with which she was connected on its trip to Lowell.

The police have learned from members of the company that the young woman did not join them. She failed to appear at the opening performance in Lowell, but the management received a note signed ostensibly by a doctor, saying that Miss Geary was too ill to fill her place, and would not be able to do so for several days.

The name signed to the note was "P. H. Smith, M. D., Boston." One of the most important features of the police work today was the effort to identify the identity of the writer of the missive.

The name "P. H. Smith" is a common one, and the police are endeavoring to prevent peritonsils, but little hope is expressed for Jones' recovery.

Taken Home by Relatives.

After the shooting, which occurred at the Cheney home, two miles from Cuba, Cheney, who is one of the wealthiest and best known men in the county, drove to town, called a physician and reported to the officials. Relatives of Jones, who is the son of a retired merchant of Cuba, sent a carriage for him and he was taken to his home. Cheney has not been arrested and it was reported Monday that he probably would not be held unless Jones dies.

Jones had been paying attention to Miss Cheney for two years and his suit was favored until recently, when it is said, Cheney found fault with him.

Cheney placed a guard outside the house on Thursday and Friday nights to watch for Jones, but as he did not appear it was thought he had discontinued his visits. There was no guard on Saturday night, when Jones came to the house. With a ladder, he admitted himself to Miss Cheney's room.

FREE SPEECH AND CIVIL LIBERTIES TO BE GRANTED

Czar Surrenders as Ruler of Autocracy, and Count Witte Comes Into Power as Minister-President With Authority to Convert National Assembly Into Legislative Body.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 30.—Tonight the autocracy of the Romanoffs and the old order of things cease to exist in Russia. Emperor Nicholas has surrendered and Count Witte comes into power as Minister-President with an Imperial mandate which will enable him to convert the farcical national assembly into a real legislative body, elected by greatly extended suffrage and to confer on the people fundamental civil liberties, including free speech.

These welcome tidings reached St. Petersburg shortly before 6 o'clock this evening. Count Witte had spent the day with the Emperor at Peterhof, going over the final draft of the manifesto to which he insisted that certain minor modifications be made and before taking the train for St. Petersburg he telephoned to a friend that the Emperor had affixed his signature and that the Imperial mandate comprising the conditions on which he has agreed to accept office, was in his pocket.

These include freedom of the press, the right of assembly and the immunity of the person, including the right of habeas corpus.

The official announcement reads:

"An Imperial manifesto will be issued this evening appointing Count Witte Prime Minister with special authority to co-ordinate and unify the powers of the different branches of the army. Civil liberties are granted to the Russian people and to the National Assembly is given legislative power, while the suffrage is enlarged."

ODESSA, Oct. 30, 5 p. m.—There are persistent rumors in circulation here today that the crews of the vessels composing the Black Sea fleet mutinied on arriving at Samsun, on the coast of Asia Minor, killed Admirals Birileff and Chouknin, and sailed back to Sevastopol after hoisting the revolutionary flag.

The authorities are confiscating all political telegrams.

WARSAW, Oct. 30.—Rioting has broken out, says a telegram received here from Moscow. It says the strikers have destroyed the Belt Railroad and burned two houses on Towarska street, one of them belonging to the Governor.

Tens of thousands of workmen in the city are leaving the city by every railway and many means available. The military telegraph operators are complaining of having to operate the commercial service.

They declare they are too tired to perform the work.

Telegraphic communication between Warsaw and Vilna has been severed. The excitement in the streets here has also spread to the suburbs. The crowds overturned the street cars with the object of stopping traffic.

At Lodz the situation grows worse hourly. The infantry, when ordered to fire on the people, are discharging their rifles in the air. The shops are closed and those whose owners refuse to shut up are destroyed. Crowds are busily tearing down Russian flags which were displayed by order of the police.

Thousands of peasants in the government of Suwalki are destroying the Government alcohol stores.

"PROTECT AMERICANS," GOVERNMENT DIRECTS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Spencer Eddy, in charge of the American Embassy at St. Petersburg, has cabled the State Department that the situation in St. Petersburg is alarming and that it is his duty to protect Americans in Russia.

A consultation was held between Secretary Root and Assistant Secretary Bacon and instructions sent to Mr. Eddy to offer to Americans the protection of the embassy if necessary arose, and gave him discretion to use his own judgment in emergencies, only requesting him to keep the department informed.

Mr. Eddy's dispatch was considered of great import by the Government officials, as it is the policy of diplomats to use foreign capitals to be exceedingly conservative.

OTHER GRAFTS LARGE

Additional Stealings Under Machine-Combine's Contract
Foot Up $2,800,550.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Six million, three hundred and thirty thousand dollars have thus far been stolen outright from the taxpayers of Philadelphia by the contracting combine which has been engaged in building the great filtration plant and the two boulevards, one in the northeastern and the other in the southern portion of the city.

This conclusion has been reached by Maj. Cassius E. Gillette of the engineers' corps, U. S. A., and John Donald MacLennan, experts employed by Mayor Weaver to make a full investigation of the contracts and the work done.

Maj. Gillette is the officer who investigated the jobbery in the Savannah harbor improvements and procured the evidence on which former Capt. Oberlin M. Carter was convicted, and against which Green and Gaylor must shortly stand trial. John Donald MacLennan is an experienced engineer who recently completed the construction of the Government's filtration plant at Washington.

Filter Chief Indicted.
John W. Hill, former chief of the Bureau of Filtration, is now awaiting trial on charges of forgery, etc., in connection with the filtration contracts. The contracting combine which is accused of this thievery is constituted, in the main, of Israel W. Durham, Republican boss of Philadelphia and co-boss with United States Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, and State Senator James P. McNichol.

These two men, with D. J. McNichol, a brother of the State Senator, composed the contracting firm of Daniel J. McNichol. Evidence brought out at Hill's preliminary hearing showed that in this firm D. J. McNichol owns a one-twelfth interest, the other eleven-twelfths being divided equally between Durham and James P. McNichol.

The report submitted by the two experts and made public today, shows that on account of the filtration plant and the northeast and southern boulevards, the city has expended $18,761,541, and that the work, had all of it been of first-class quality, should not have cost more than $12,430,000, which sum includes a 20 per cent allowance for contractors' profits, and which sum has already been paid the McNichols. Much of the work is of second-class quality, the plan of the contractors having been to make those portions that were visible first class and all that could be hidden second class.

Cause of 1257 Deaths.
Beside the monetary loss, the experts accuse the contracting combine with direct responsibility for 1257 deaths from typhoid that have occurred in the last 20 months. The plant, they declare, should easily have been completed Jan. 1, 1904. Since that date there have been 11,978 cases of typhoid fever in the city, with 1257 deaths, whereas the number of deaths from typhoid had the citizens been provided with pure water since Jan. 1, 1904, should not have been in excess of 57.

Of the $6,330,000 of which the city has been robbed, the experts charge the D. J. McNichol crowd with having obtained $3,065,122. Ryan and Kelley, who are accused of having been in collusion with the McNichols, got $500,000, and are brothers, who have the contract on the southern boulevard, have got $38,125.

To complete existing contracts on the filtration plant will cost the city $1,688,000, on which there will be a loss, by graft, of $467,000. The completion of the northwestern boulevard, for which the McNichols have the contract, will cost $6,500,000, entailing a loss upon the city of $2,250,000, and the southern boulevard will require for its completion $300,516, with further loss, under existing contracts of $336,350.

All of these contracts, in which, with what the combine has already collected, the graft aggregates $9,130,550, have been suspended by Mayor Weaver.

Combines Elaborate System.
To complete the filtration plant and place it in service will require the expenditure of $4,687,000, assuming that every penny will be honestly expended.

An elaborate system for guiding contracts on these immense expenditures into the hands of the McNichols is laid bare by the experts. Bids were advertised only in obscure weekly political publications of strictly local circulation, so that outside contractors never had notice of these lettings.

Time in which specification might be examined and bids formulated was limited to 10 days and two weeks in instances involving expenditures of millions of dollars and requiring the bidder to bid upon as many as 14 printed pages of specifications, together with as many as 228 square feet of closely drawn detail maps.

Many of the advertisements were absolutely illegal and in one instance, on a contract involving $2,000,000, the bids were opened three days before the ordinance authorizing them was approved by the Mayor.

In the case of the Northeast boulevard the route was first surveyed by a syndicate of land speculators, accepted by city council in an ordinance authorizing the work and finally accepted as the plan for a boulevard by the Bureau of Surveys.

VAN-CAMP CREAM OYSTER
STEW.

HERE'S a dish fit for a King!

It's about the most delicious you can make. It will ravish your palate with its rich flavor. But you must have real Cream to make it right.

Such heavy Cream as this Dish needs would cost you 40 cents a quart from the Milkman.

But, Van Camp sells that same kind of Cream at half the price, through the Grocers. Moreover, Van Camp Cream is Sterilized.

Every Germ and Microbe that sours milk, or carries Disease, is killed out of Van Camp Cream by heat and cold, before a pint of it leaves the Van Camp Dairy of 10,000 cows.

That's why it keeps for years, without Sugar, or "doctoring," in its sealed tin pints.

A case of Van Camp Cream is like having a Cow in the Pantry, without the trouble of milking her. There's no waste with it because you can use it as you do Tea, Salt, or Sugar—little or much at a time, and the balance will keep.

A case has 48 tin pints, at about 9 cents a Tin each. Cream, mind you, double-thick Cream with over 12 per cent of Butter-fat in it, and purified of all Germs by Sterilizing.

Our free "Cook Book" tells how to make 40 delicious dishes out of "Odds and Ends" with genuine Van Camp Cream.

Don't forget that Van Camp Cream is as different from "Condensed Milk" as it is from Axle Grease, which "Condensed Milk" so much resembles.

RECIPE.

Van Camp Oyster Stew.

1 Tin Van Camp Cream
1 quart oysters
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoonful salt

To serve eight people

Scald one can of Van Camp's Sterilized Cream and a cup and a half of water in a double boiler. Pour half a cup of water over a quart of oysters and heat each oyster to remove any bits of shell upon them. Strain the liquor and let it come to the boiling point, skim and in it heat the oysters to the boiling point, skim again, add the scalded cream and water, three level tablespoonsful of butter and half a teaspoonful or more of salt. Serve at once with crackers.

OLD VIRGINIA
CHEROOTS

Package of 3 for 5 Cents

(A cheroot is a cigar made without the head)

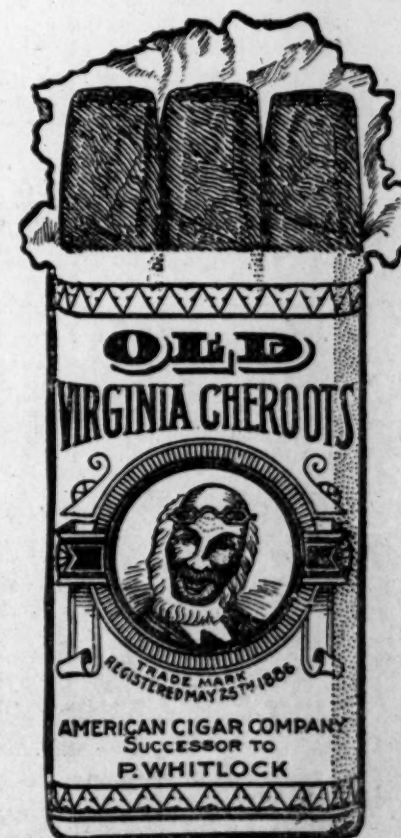

A good part of the cost of a cigar goes into the workmanship.

The "bunching" of the tobacco for the filler takes a little time. The rolling of the filler in the one piece of leaf which is called the "binder," takes a little more time. The cutting and rolling of the outside leaf or "wrapper" takes a little more.

But it is the finishing-operation of forming the "head" that takes most of the time, most of the skill, and costs most of the money.

And yet it's nothing in the world but waste,—for the first thing you do is to clip off that "head" that you have paid your good money for, and throw it away.

If the dealer clipped off the heads of three good five-cent cigars and handed them all three to you for 5 cents, you would call it a bargain;—and that's exactly the kind of trade you make when you pay 5 cents for 3 Old Virginia Cheroots.

A cheroot is only a cigar with its head cut off—and when you buy three Old Virginia Cheroots for 5 cents you pay the right price for three good smokes, and nothing else.

The filler is made from the short leaves and selected clippings of five choice grades of domestic tobacco—blended to give just the combination of agreeable strength and mild fragrance required to make a good smoke.

Not only a bargain in price, but good. Not only good, but clean. Made by modern processes in the biggest and cleanest cigar factory in the world.

A million sold every day—you can get them at any cigar counter in the country.

NEWS OF THE THEATRES

NOT until one minute before the final curtain do you know whence Henry Blossom's new comedy, which opened a week's engagement at the Century last night, gets its name of "A Fair Exchange."

And then you learn in quite a neat finish, that it is because Cliffe Austin, in his hero, claims the hand of Lily Belle, Countess Sturges "cute" niece, in return for that of his sister, the widow of Mrs. Ryerson, whom the bluff old yachtsman loves.

Like Augustus Thomas, that other successful St. Louis playwright, Mr. Blossom is now keeping very swaggy company indeed. The people in "A Fair Exchange" are of New York's high society, and its story is one of club life dotted by the flicker of yacht sails. Even the hero, played by Mr. Thomas W. Ross, our original "Checkers" of native flavor, although heralded as a Westerner, is in reality a rich young Gotham mite with but a year's roughing it as owner of an Arizona ranch to his credit.

And so our home products yield to the fascination of the gilded East and abandon, dramatically, the scenes of their nativity.

Ichabod! Ichabod!—but why mourn like Rachel weeping for her children and refusing to be comforted because they are not?

For at least, they gave us bright comedy, even if it isn't home-brewed—and that's a good deal these days.

I don't for a moment imagine that Mr. Blossom essayed to do more than pleasantly amuse us with "A Fair Exchange," and send us homeward feeling that we had been newly entertained for one evening. It's written and presented in that spirit, and it succeeds quite commendably. The lines are bright, the characters smart, the situations snappy. At times there is too obvious a shaping of the dialogue to lay the foundation for an epigram, but often it flows quite freely to the end.

Last night's audience was vastly tickled by the play.

Its story, of course, you know—how Cliffe Austin comes back to New York from his ranch, saves his chum, Bob Howe, from the evil machinations of the broker-villain, Walter Langhorne, wins the girl of his choice incidental to this achievement, and proves himself generally a very likeable and up-to-snuff young chap. Mr. Ross does the part quite nicely—not precisely with the magnetism of his "Checkers," but in a happy and youthful vein that pleases, all the same. He's a fresh-gilled lad, handsome with or without his gray Charley-boy hat, and from the poker game at the start to the alert routing of the villain at the finish, you feel that he knows what's o'clock every minute of the time.

He had to make a little curt speech after the second act, whereupon he told us that we had been the first to welcome him in "Checkers," that we had several times welcomed him therein, and that he hoped we would greet him many times more in "A Fair Exchange." Mr. Blossom was in the house, but you can't get Blossom to make a speech without threatening him with a club.

The support was very good indeed. Miss Clara Kulp, being especially winning and girly-girly as Lily Belle Sturges. Forrest Robinson, who succeeded Charles Mason as Commodore Sturges four days ago, makes a breezy old gentleman-sailor of the past.

You'll enjoy "A Fair Exchange" mightily. It's crisp comedy—with a refreshing crackle like properly served lettuce.

The White Blackbird of Mr. Perley.

"The Winning Girl," which received its first St. Louis presentation at the Garrick Sunday night before a full house, is the white blackbird of musical comedy. It has a plot of its own.

Because of this distinction, Manager Perley proudly refuses to call it a musical comedy on the bills. It's there designated as "a cross-country comedy with a musical accompaniment"—the cross-country element coming into it by reason of the four hunt attempts of the second act, the scene of which is a country home adjoining the Lenox Country Club—and, after all, perhaps Manager Perley is right. Anyway, it's a change from the musical comedies we've seen in such plenty of late.

The Garrick audience witnessed a brilliant performance of the latest Perley success. The amusing story of the tribulations of certain lively old clubmen of Gotham, due to the enterprise of an unsuspected reporter for a scandal-mongering society weekly, was told with a rush that often brought the play into the category of legitimate farce, and the house seemed to relish this method of its telling. This enjoyment increased to the point of guffiness when the play reached its laughable climax toward the close.

Every now and then, just to remind you that the spirit of musical comedy wasn't entirely ignored, there came a song or dance or chorus—and then the straight story was taken up again and hurried along by the swiftest of swift action. Evidently, the company has been trained on quickstep principles.

Some pleasing hits were made by certain of its members. Caroline Hull as Violet Darc, the Broadway favorite; Blanche Deyo as Germaine Du Monde, owner of a manœuvre parlor; Mabel Penon as a society maven; Charles J. Ross as the self-made Julien Endicott; Fred Bond as James Edgerton, "on the right side of the market"; Fletcher Norton as the reporter, and Hart E. Healey as Sany Graham, from the West, were among the lucky ones.

The stage settings were handsome and the music—after all, you can't get away from the music—was bright and catchy. The production seems to possess the elements of quite a satisfactory success.

Melodious Birds in a Savage Forest.

"Woodland," a musical fantasy of the tall untut, by the men who wrote "The Prince of Pilsen," opened a week's engagement at the Olympic Theater Sunday night, and quite a large audience whooped with the rooster and cocked with the hens of this novel, ornithological piece. It is a big and colorful production by Henry W. Sage, and the wit of Frank Pixley and the useful genius of Gustav Luders make it an entertainment high in the class of its kind.

"Woodland" made quite a stir when it was produced in the East, for the stage had never had anything quite like it. The conceit of making birds of men and women and having nothing but birds upon the stage, was novel, indeed, and it is a novelty which does a not wear off in the whole length of the piece. Near the very last there is a flutter, out of which a bevy of chorus girls come to the front made up as canaries. The bright yellow of their feathery costumes and the bird-beak caps which they wear made the illusion pretty enough.

In this very enjoyable piece one sees Harry Bulger, a droll and crisp comedian funny enough for anybody's sense of the ridiculous, in the part of Bluejay. Bulger used to be the name of a dog. Tie a can to the dog. Henceforth the name Bulger stands for much more. Harry is a first-cousin to the Post-Dispatch Weather Bird, and he is now ere else so much at home as he is right here in St. Louis. He has one of the funniest songs heard heretofore in a long time—"No Bird Ever Flew So High He Didn't Have to Light." Otherwise "Woodland" has a showy-looking company, much that is grotesque, a wealth of tinsel, and tons of tunes.

Few things are so pretty as "Dainty Little Ingenue" and the way Robin and Dove sing it. This Robin, who is Walter Lawrence, is about as likable in voice and manner as one may hope to be. A subsequent Canary chorus, "Coo on a String," is, with the lugubrious song of the Loder music, Louis Casavant and his wife, Miss Greta Risley, are in the company in their usual richness of stature and voice. Miss Risley is Miss Peacock, and Mr. Casavant is Judge Owl. Miss Helen Hale, a pretty and vivacious girl who has delighted us ere this, is Jenny Wren, the soubrette. The antics of Sherman Wade in the part of General Buester are a source of amusement only secondary to that afforded by Harry Bulger in the part of Bluejay.

Musical Comedy Invades the Grand.

George Evans as Blutch, the jockey, in "The Runaways," which opened at the Grand Sunday afternoon, is very much in his element, and made that tickled two big audiences mightily. The musical comedy has an amusing story and is satisfactorily presented. Its two acts showing respectively the racetrack and clubhouse at Saratoga and the mythical island of Table d'Hôte, being handsomely set. There are a number of catchy songs and an even greater number of pretty girls, the latter billed as "a beauty chorus of 60" by an enterprising management. The action of the play goes with a jump from start to finish.

Cowboys, Indians and a Cowgirl.

"Young Buffalo, King of the Wild West," drew two big houses at the Imperial Sunday and began a week's engagement amidst the greatest enthusiasm. A hero in hairy "chaps," a bunch of four especially delightful cowboys, some real Indian squaws and bucks and a "Bessie" Mulhall sort of cowgirl with the real west, you ever saw, set the afternoon and evening audiences wild with keen appreciation. Young Buffalo—they say that's his real Wild West name, you know—is a spirited melodramatic actor and his support is excellent of its kind.

Fiat Dwellers at Havlin's Now.

At Havlin's a reconstructed "McFadden's Row of Flats" was the offering Sunday afternoon and evening, and two big houses apparently liked the new structure. There's much music and fun in the production, an increased chorus of comely young women, a laughable travesty on Sousa's band-together rather a pleasing presentation of an old production brought up to date.

German Fun With the "New Woman."

New women and old women—also in en—who understand German, can get lots of fun out of "Los vom Mann" (A Way With the Men), which was the new bill put on by the German Stock Co. at the Odéon Sunday night. It's a laughable comedy, based on the "advanced feminine" attitude toward masculinity, and was presented with much spirit.

Standard Presents Jimmy Britt and Burlesque.

Although Jimmy Britt was licked by "Battling" Nelson, he's a popular "puck" in St. Louis and two big houses assembled at the Standard Sunday to see him in stage action with the gloves and punching bag. "The Kentucky Burlesque" organization furnishes the rest of the entertainment, with John Reid taking the principal part in "Murphy's Mistake."

"Quaint" Rice and Others at the Gayety.

Rice and Barton's Rose Hill English Polka Co. is the bill at the Gayety, opening a week's engagement with Sunday matinee. George W. Rice is a leading comedian, well backed up by John E. Cain and Harry Evans, and some bright specialties are introduced, several of which "made good" with marked emphasis at Sunday's performance.

The New Columbia Bill Looks Bright.

The new bill to be put on at the Columbia this afternoon has Valerie Bergere and company at the head of the list in a condensed version of "Carmen." Then there are Cole and Johnson in original songs; Sylvester, Jones and Pringle in minstrelsy; Wartenberg brothers, double-foot dancing experts; Harry Thompson, "Mayor of the Bowsy," monologist; Howard brothers and their curious flying banjos, and other specialties, followed by the kinodrome.

To Switzerland with Burton Holmes.

Next Thursday evening Mr. Burton Holmes will give a travelogue on "Switzerland; the Eastern Half," at the Odéon, being the fourth of his series. The color views and motion pictures illustrating the travel talk are said to be particularly beautiful. A matinee travelogue on the same theme will be given by Mr. Holmes at 4 p. m. Thursday for the benefit of the Under-Age Free Kindergarten Association.

SOME QUEER PSYCHIC STORIES

From the London Daily Graphic.

ON a recent occasion, writes Miss. my possession. Naturally they are of too intimate a nature for publication; but I would show them to any accredited member of the Psychical Society if considered of sufficient interest. As long as my husband lived, and later, there seemed to be some occult link of communication between us. We were not Spiritualists in the ordinary sense of the word, nor what one would call very religious in every-day phrase, but we both thought the foregoing experience was allowed by a kind Providence to comfort us in an enforced absence.

I was on my way through town with my daughter in the beginning of July for a few weeks' holiday, says another contributor, when she suggested that we should stay there a few days and see some of the theaters. We were not far from the Gaiety at the time, and in inquiry there we were told that all the seats had been booked for that evening. As we were leaving, however, two seats were sent in, Nos. 15 and 16, in the upper circle, which we gladly availed ourselves of. We then went on to the Prince of Wales, and were again told that the good seats for Friday evening (the 7th) were taken, but they suddenly discovered that Nos. 15 and 16 in the upper circle were available for that evening. We looked on this as a piece of great good luck, but thought it very odd that the seats were in the same part of the house as the Gaiety, and the same numbers.

We then tried our luck at the Garrick for Saturday evening (the 8th), and were again told that all the seats had been taken, but almost immediately afterward it was discovered that there were two seats in the upper circle to be had, Nos. 15 and 16.

WISCONSIN TEAM
TO PLAY ST. LOUIS

According to Father Burke of St. Louis University, Northern Eleven Will Play Post-Season Game Here With Dowd's
Men on December 2.

As mentioned exclusively in Sunday's Post-Dispatch, it is very likely that local football enthusiasts will have an opportunity to see the Wisconsin eleven in action on a St. Louis field this year. A representative of the Cardinal club, Vanderboom, Busch, and others are named in the lineup of an All-Star team of players who will have completed their four years' of college football at the end of the present campaign, and which is planning a tour of Western cities to play post-season games.

Dowd Anxious to Play.
Coach Dowd said Monday morning that the game has not been definitely arranged, but that it probably will be as he is perfectly willing to send his team against the Northern stars, provided it finishes in good condition.

"Robinson, our crack halfback, who played with Wisconsin two years ago, is chiefly responsible for Wisconsin's willingness to play here," said Father Burke Monday morning.

"He is in close touch with the athletic authorities at the Madison school, and, knowing of their desire to play one

Many of the St. Louis players are under the impression that it is an All-Star aggregation, made up of Michigan, Wisconsin and Chicago players that is trying to arrange the St. Louis game. It is known that Heston, Dowd is in charge of the most promising material seen in this section for some time and by the end of the season, his team will be at the height of its power. The showing against Illinois University proves that it is not far behind a majority of the Big Nine eleven in strength.

HARVARD CHANGES.
Crimson Invites Canadian Teams to Visit Har.

Teams to Visit Here
BOSTON, Oct. 30.—That the Harvard Athletic Committee is contemplating radical changes in football is shown by the fact that the Canadian rugby football teams have been invited to play on Soldiers' Field Saturday, Nov. 1, while the crimson team plays Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. Jack O'Brien is now about to be matched with Marvin Hart. They have fought several six-round affairs without any advantage on either side. O'Brien has always made Hart come down to weight.

One of the clubs is the Dalhousie team of Nova Scotia. The other team will probably be chosen from the British naval reserves now at Annapolis. At this game an opportunity will be afforded for the crimson authorities to judge for themselves the relative merits of the American and Canadian games.

PINS WILL FALL
MONDAY NIGHT.

In the Canadian game each team must make 10 yards in three downs. This leads to kicking and runs, fake plays and much passing of the ball. Twelve men play on a side and the game, while popular, is less strenuous than football. It is being contemplated here.

The biggest event of the year in local bowling circles will start tonight, when the championship bowling tournament of the National Cooked Hat Association opens at the Royal alleys.

MR. HEDGES' TEAM.

St. Paul Manager Will Go to Toledo If Awarded to St. Louis.

Mike Kelley, who was manager of the St. Paul club last year, who led the Saints in two successful fights for the American Association pennant, and who was purchased by the St. Louis Browns this fall, will be manager of the Toledo club next year and will not come to St. Louis.

Kelley objected to his sale to St. Louis because he had been in between the leagues every Monday night.

While the news that he will manage the Toledo club has not been officially confirmed, it comes from a source that is reliable. It is claimed that in event of Kelley being unsuccessful in his case against the commission that the Baltimore Orioles would be interested in purchasing the Toledo franchise. John Gann dropping of mucus back into the throat keeps up a continual hawking and spitting, the patient has dull headaches, ringing noises in the ears and is half sick, depressed feeling all the time. Every inner lining and tissue of the body becomes inflamed, and secretes an unhealthy matter which is absorbed into the blood and distributed to all parts of the body, and the disease becomes constitutional. The catarrhal poison brings on stomach troubles, affects the Kidneys and Bladder, attacks the soft bones of the throat and head and if not checked leads to Consumption. A disease so deep-seated and dangerous cannot be washed out, neither can it be smoked away. Sprays, washes, inhalations, etc., are useless, because they only reach the membranes and tissues, while the real cause of the disease is in the blood. S. S. ## WATER MAIN BURST; 3 DEAD

CATARRH OF WINTER

Many Buildings Flooded and One Railroad Stopped at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—By the bursting of a water main at Eighteenth and Clay streets, three lives were lost; property valued at $5,000 was destroyed; scores of families were made homeless and freight traffic on the Nickel Plate Railroad was delayed for several hours. The fatalities resulted indirectly from the flood, which followed the bursting of the water pipe and flooded the immediate neighborhood for several blocks, damaging several business houses near by.

Two of the persons who lost their lives were overcome by gas in the Illinois tunnel at Eighteenth street and Armour avenue, while attempting to ascertain if the flood had damaged the property of the company.

The other death was the result of shock to an invalid, who awoke and found her room flooded with water. Besides these casualties, several persons were injured in the flood while attempting to recover the bodies of the two men suffocated in the tunnel.

The dead are Michael Barry, and James Barry, employees of the Tunnel Company, and Mrs. Lottie Hamlin, aged 70.

ROOSEVELT IS SPEEDING HOME

Cruiser West Virginia, Bearing President, and Escorts Break Navy Record.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The cruiser West Virginia, which is bringing President Roosevelt, and the cruisers Pennsylvania and Colorado, have broken the record of the navy for speed, having maintained a speed of 20 knots an hour from Jupiter Inlet, off the Florida coast, to Savannah, Ga., under unfavorable conditions.

While cleaning a rifle near a fire Elmer Martin, 13 years old, of French Village, Ill., was accidentally shot in the chest Sunday. He was hunting with a number of companions and dropped the weapon while crossing a slough. On reaching the camp he sat down near the fire and was squinting down the barrel of the gun to see if any of the dirt had lodged in it when it was discharged. He escaped serious injury.

GIRL FOUGHT FOOTPAD WHO GRABBED PURSE

Repulsed Negro Who Sprang From Shadow of Building on Olive, Near 12th.

COLD WEATHER CRIMES

Overcoat Is Taken From Man Stopped Near Liederkranz Hall.

CLOTHING DUMMY ROBBED

Saloon Keeper Yields $10 Under Strangers' Threat of "Lid" Arrest.

Miss Margaret Denny, who resisted a negro who choked her and grabbed her purse near Thirteenth and Olive streets early Monday, will apply for a warrant charging John Cook with highway robbery. Cook, a mulatto, was arrested by Patrolmen who heard Miss Denny's cries and saw him running away. He denies his guilt.

The young woman who works at the Jefferson Hotel, left there shortly after 1 a. m., going west on Olive from Twelfth street, on her way home, 1604 Olive street.

A negro sprang from the shadow of a building on the south side of the street, and clutched her throat. With his free hand he grabbed her purse. She screamed as the man's fingers reached her neck. He forced her back to the hallway of a store front, but she managed to keep her feet and again scream. Patrolmen Bunting, Burris and O'Keefe, near Twelfth and Olive streets, heard her cries. Hearing their footsteps the negro ran. One patrolman fired at him, and the negro ran down a passageway nearby. It proved to be a blind alley, and he was captured. Miss Denny identified him at the Four Courts.

Took Man's Overcoat.
The police are looking for two highwaymen who stopped John West of 323 Broadway street early Sunday at Thirteenth street and Chouteau avenue, near Liederkranz Hall, and took from him nearly everything he had, even an overcoat, which he had purchased the night before.

Nest says the men held two revolvers to his head while they took from him a gold watch valued at $60, a pocketbook containing $3, a pocket knife and an overcoat.

The "lid" argument was utilized by two men in parting a saloon keeper from $10. The men entered Henry Granovsky's place, 1238 North Third street, Sunday, and, exhibiting police stars, told Granovsky that he was under arrest for violating the Sunday law. Granovsky started with the bogus officers, but the trio had not gone far when the men demanded $10. The saloon man offered to deliver the required amount if they would return to the saloon. The pair took the money and disappeared.

Frank Williams, a negro, is under arrest, while the police are endeavoring to find the owners of property found in a trunk in Williams' room at 1238 Ludus avenue. A check for $300 drawn on the United States Banking Co. in favor of C. A. Greenlaw, was found in the negro's possession. Among the articles found in the trunk is a 14-karat box containing watch, which the name of J. S. Wheeler is engraved, and a plain band gold ring. The negro says that a woman in Louisville gave him the watch and ring, and that he found the check on the street.

Williams was arrested on complaint of Beje Jerome, a negro, who alleges that he robbed her.

William Cartin of 1108 South Eighteenth street reported to the police that he was struck in the eye by a high-wheeler early Sunday while passing 2122 Chouteau avenue. The robber took $3, a gold-handled knife and two door keys.

Robbed Clothing Dummy.
Jacob Groelock, clothing dealer at 2115 Franklin avenue, has reported that a robber grappled with a "dummy" in front of his store Sunday and started to make way with a coat. Groelock gave chase and the robber dropped the coat, and as Groelock picked it up struck the man on the eye.

Three hundred dollars and a revolver were taken Sunday by a robber who entered the home of Peter Ziebock, 1415 South Second street. The money and revolver were in a trunk, which was forced open with a pair of shears.

A five-gallon jug of whiskey was missed from the steamer Stacker Lee Sunday. George Lee, a negro deckhand, was also missing. Lee, when arrested, admitted that he had taken the whiskey and sold it to a saloonkeeper.

A burglar entered the residence of Col. James Gay Butler, 484 West Pine boulevard, Sunday, and got an overcoat and a mackintosh.

Richard Seeliner and his family sat in a room in the rear of Seeliner's cigar store, at 1418 Wash street, Sunday afternoon, not knowing that a daylight robber, who had forced a door, was getting away with $67 from the cash drawer, a watch and chain, a lady's hand satchel and a quantity of cigars.

PLAY CUT FOR NEW YORK RUN

"Mrs. Warren's Profession" Is Said to Have Been Hastily Expurgated.

INDECENCY ELIMINATED

Will Be Produced at Garrick Monday Night Under Censorship.

A news telegram from New York announced that an expurgated presentation of Bernard Shaw's play, "Mrs. Warren's Profession," will be given Monday night. The play is to be cut to the decency demanded by the management of the Garrick Theater, where it will be acted for the first time in New York.

Arnold Daly denies that Mr. Shaw himself had ordered by cable that the play be edited into a condition of respectability, and declared that Samuel Gumpert, the manager and also the manager of the Garrick, was wholly responsible for the new order.

"I still stand by my original opinion," said Mr. Daly, "that Mrs. Warren is fit for any society. She is not a social outcast."

Her expulsion from the Orpheum Theater in New Haven on Friday night was due entirely to the fact that an ignorant official had it in his power to pass judgment on an artistic creation. "He condemned it and we could not produce it there, even a second time."

"It is not my intention, however, to flaunt even the most perfect literary effort of the season in the face of the public, especially after a high-necked and long-sleeved gown. If the public on Tuesday night will come to the Garrick, they will find that the play is not fit for the audience that Shaw plays command in this city, then it shall be taken off."

"If the critics pass it in its new dress, then it stays. Constock or any narrow-minded official to the contrary notwithstanding."

"Mrs. Warren's Profession," said one Broadway theatrical producer, "there will be no Mrs. Warren left; therefore, there will be no play."

"That is what I believe that the brutally truthful characters in this latest of Shaw's sensations will not suffer from. The play has been put on at a cost of $10,000. The house has been sold out for two weeks ahead. The production Monday night will be under the eyes of the New York police. Commissioner McAdoo will be at the Garrick at the head of a squad specially drafted to see what is going on. It is at her husband, and also to take care of the crowd that is expected to be on hand."

HUNG BY WIRE.

Fire Captain Saved Himself When Ladder Broke.

While a fire raged in the building of the Missouri Candy Co., 508 North Main street, Sunday afternoon, Capt. George W. Thornhill of fire company is hung by a wire from the third story when a ladder he was standing on broke. He and Capt. James A. Adams of company 12 had climbed to the third story when the apparatus gave way. Adams fell to the ground, but escaped with slight bruises.

Damage to stock, which included Christmas supplies, is estimated at $10,000 by E. M. Switzer, proprietor of the company.

The building, owned by J. D. Luddington, was damaged $10,000. It is not known what caused the fire, but it is thought it was spontaneous combustion among the chemicals on the second floor.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

HARPER'S BOOK NEWS.

With Flashlight and Rifle

This book, now creating a sensation in Germany, is the most remarkable study of wild animals that has ever been made. It is illustrated with over one hundred startling photographs, many of them taken at night by flashlight, showing wild beasts in their native haunts in the African wilds. True aspects of their jungle life are now revealed for the first time to the human eye. Mr. C. G. Schilling's adventures while taking the pictures are of graphic interest and read like fairy tales.

Mrs. Raffles

John Kendrick Bangs' latest book recounts the burglaries in which, after Raffles' death, his widow is concerned. It is a clever satire on fashionable society and recent events. Mrs. Raffles succeeds in raising a tremendous loan on the strength of a few steel bonds, persuades a prominent millionaire to bestow a library on Rafflehurst-by-the-Sea, and achieves other master strokes that are sure to be appreciated.

WELCOME TOO WARM.

Alton Man Swung Against Door by Nephew.

To show his joy at seeing his uncle for whom he was named, Julius Stumpf Jr., whirled Julius Stumpf Sr. against a door and tearing the scalp of his relative's skull, at Granite City Sunday. Ten stitches were taken to close the wound.

Julius, Sr., came from Upper Alton to see his nephew, and expected a warm reception. He was not prepared for the hug and subsequent whiplash that took him off his feet, struck his head against a door and laid him out. He is not seriously hurt.

FAN-TAN TIPSTER HELD.

Chinese Prisoner Says Private Detective Got Ten Dollars From Him.

Cyrano Caporal, a private detective, is held at Central Police Station while the charge of Joe Sam that Caporal robbed him of $10, is being investigated. Caporal gave information resulting in a raid on 18 Market street to Detectives Pazdernik and Peeney, helping them correct 18 Chinese fan tan players.

When Joe Sam was being searched, he pointed to Caporal and said the private detective had taken $10 of his money. Two $5 bills were found in Caporal's pocket.

TAKE STOVE TO CH.

Alton Church Member Respond to Pastor's Request.

"Members of the congregation please bring their own stoves," was request sent out shortly before the Sunday morning service in First Methodist Church, Alton, and churchgoers responded so nobly as to suggest a First-hand Pete North Expedition.

"No member's stove" was not represented, but all makes and sizes of coal-oil heaters from the curling iron to the six-burner variety, succeeded in taking the chill off the atmosphere of the large auditorium. The heater plant of the new edifice had not been installed.

WHY DOCTORS FAIL AND MRS. PINKHAM SUCCEEDS

Plain Reasons Are Here Given to Explain Why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures What Doctors Are Powerless.

A woman is sick; some disease peculiar to her sex is fast developing; her system is breaking down; she goes to her family physician and tells him a story, but not the whole story.

She holds something back, loses her head, becomes agitated, forgets what she wants to say, and finally conceals what she ought to have told, and thus completely mystifies the doctor.

Is it any wonder, therefore, that the doctors fail to cure the disease? Still we cannot blame the woman, for it is very embarrassing to detail some of the symptoms of her suffering, even to her family physician.

It was for this reason that years ago Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., determined to step in and help her sex. Having had considerable experience in treating female ills with her Vegetable Compound, she encouraged the women of America to write to her for advice in regard to their complaints, and being a woman, it was easy for her to give details to pour into her ears every detail of their suffering.

In this way she was able to do for them what the physicians were unable to do, simply because she had the proper information to work upon, and from the little group of women who sought her advice years ago a great army of her fellow-beings are today constantly applying for advice and relief, and the fact that many thousands of them have been cured by following the advice of Mrs. Pinkham during the last year is indicative of the grand results which are produced by her unequalled experience and training.

No physician in the world has had such a training, or has such an amount of information at hand to assist in the treatment of all kinds of female ills, from the simplest local irritation to the most complicated womb diseases.

This, therefore, is the reason why Mrs. Pinkham, in her laboratory at Lynn, Mass., is able to do more for the ailing woman of America than the family physician. Any woman, therefore, is responsible for her own suffering who will not take the trouble to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice.

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.
